Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Reported in the Bengal Law Reports, Vols; I to XV, and in the Supplemental Volume of Full Bench Rulings: With an Index of the Names of the Cases The publication of the Bengal Law Reports commenced in August, 1868, and ceased at the end of 1875; and during that period there were published fifteen volumes of current cases, comprizing all the most important rulings of the High Court, and one volume containing the Full Bench rulings of the High Court, from its institution in 1862 up to the commencement of the series of the Bengal Law Reports. These sixteen volumes contain a great number of important cases which are reported nowhere else, and very many others of which a fuller and more accurate report is given than will be found elsewhere. The present work is an endeavour - it is hoped not an unsuccessful one - to facilitate reference to the rulings reported in these sixteen volumes by bringing together under general headings the by no means inconsiderable body of law which those rulings contain....
